St. Stanislaus College

On January 5, 1854, an educational environment was established on the Gulf Coast. This environment came to be known as Saint Stanislaus College. The concepts and programs of Saint Stanislaus have been successfully time tested for over 130 years. Through this accumulated experience there has emerged a basic philosophy — to motivate a student towards a goal of maturity, through a structured, learning environment and to provide the facilities necessary to ensure intellectual development.

There are many factors which contribute to the full development of a student here at St. Stanislaus. These factors include athletics, academics, spirituality, and organizations. All of these things contribute to making a well rounded individual.

Athletics play an important part in that they promote teamwork and an appreciation for healthy living. There are sports available to students on a varsity, junior varsity, junior high and intramural level. Playing a major role in the development of the ideal student are the leadership qualities that a student attains through athletics.

The Academic program provided here helps the student to achieve the maximum of his potential. The curriculum is college preparatory in nature and is designed to permit the student to participate in required and elective courses that are within his range of ability and interest.

The development of spiritual and moral values is very important here at St. Stanislaus. Spiritual needs are met through the teaching of religion, participation in student masses, and involvement in church-related and community service activities. Boarding here is important also, for it teaches the individual to use his time wisely and fosters friendly relationships. Boarders experience the give and take of "family life" by sharing quarters with members of their age group. Students can take part in dances, fishing rodeos, skating, skateboard and pool tournaments and other leisure activities.

St. Stanislaus offers many organizations and activities including Student Council, Key Club, Prep Quiz Bowl, and others. These organizations provide an opportunity for students to develop their interests and discover their natural talents.

The philosophy of this school has successfully taken students and offered to them the best opportunities of any educational institution on the Gulf Coast.

The Marching Band strikes up a tune Panama City, Florida.

Band.

The 1987-'88 band program began fresh under the new direction of Mrs. Catchie Choina.

Band started early with band camp a week before the first day of the new school year. During this time, the band started preparing for the coming marching season.

Throughout the football season the band performed during the half times, providing a superb show filled with pride. Along with appearing at half time, the band gave a lot of support at pep rallies and games, cheering the football team in their winning season.

After football season ended, the band began their preparations for their appearance in Tylertown, Mississippi, at their annual contest. This contest earned the band superior ratings. After Tylertown, the band then started getting ready for parade season.

This year's band marched in the 1st annual Hancock County Christmas parade as well as Nereids Parade, The Veterans' Day Parade and the Waveland Civics Association's St. Patrick's Day Parade, in which the band received 2nd Place.

After parade season, the concert band began preparation for the annual spring concert as well as competition in Panama City, Florida.

This year's band council was comprised of: Jimmy Benigno, Drum Major; Danny Berry, President; Lori Heavey, Vice President; Wendy Joseph, Secretary; Josef Overal, Treasurer; Howard Norris, Historian; Michael Pickich, Chaplain.

Barbershop Quartet

"Hit a C.", chimes Brother Pierre as the student quartet prepares to sing. The lead, Frank Burdette, starts the harmonic with a C, followed by the bass lan Alcalen; the baritone, David Bast; and the tenor, Matt Heitzmann. They pause and start into "My Wild Irish Rose . . ."

Barbershop Quartets are a rich tradition which involve four singers, a pitch, and of course, a song. The harmonic chords blend together until they ring as a clear sound to the ear. The lead carries the melody, which is harmonized by the bass. The tenor tops off the two while the baritone pulls it all together with a sound all his own. Great songs, like "Coney Island Baby," "After Dark," and "Honey" echo back to the times of Sunday strolls in small town America.

This year's Quartet sang at the annual SSC Christmas Program. The four singers also spent school hours and weekends singing at the homes of shut-ins, at nursing homes, at children's day care centers, and at the local VFW.

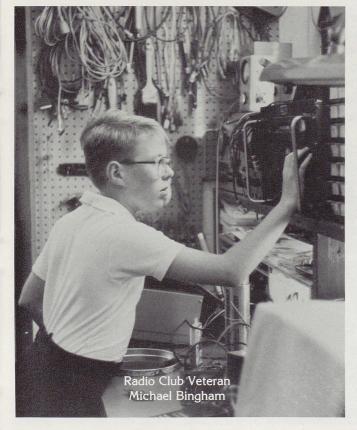

The members of the Barbershop Quartet really feel that their work is a service to others as well as an art. It serves as a positive link, as do other scholastic organizations, between St. Stanislaus and the community.

Radio Club

The SSC Radio Club was very good this year. The Administrator was Brother Eduardo, who has been in Ham Radio for over ten years. The Radio Club has been going to Ham fests, which are loads of fun! One can get a good bargain on almost anything electrical! We also went to a couple of local meetings put on by the Gulfport Radio Club.

In addition to our many adventures, we worked at all of our home basketball games to help pay for two radios which the club recently acquired. We also worked at most of our home baseball games to gain funds to purchase an additional and much larger radio.

Club members also had the opportunity to utilize their radio skills at this year's 5K race. Managing such an event would have been difficult without the club's help.

The radio club challenges one to seek out his inner technical potential and to put it to good use. On behalf of all the Radio Club, I would like to thank Brother Eduardo for all of the patience, skill, and fun that he has provided for us throughout the year.

Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts is an organization where boys can join and learn responsibility, leadership, and teamwork while having fun. Troop 86 is made up of boarders and day students from the surrounding area. The troop tries to go camping or on a day outing once a month. V-Bar, Flint Creek, and an overnight canoe trip are just a few things the troop has done this year.

The troop has a Leaders Council. This Council consists of Brother Timothy, Scoutmaster; Mr. Bob Evans, Assistant Scoutmaster; Chuck Johnson, Senior Patrol Leader; and Michael Bingham, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader. This makes up just part of the structure of the Leaders Council. We also have a Leadership Corp. which is made up of the older scouts. The Corp. is used as an example for the younger members of the organization.

The Troop also goes on a couple of summer trips. The troop either goes to the Smokey Mountains or Disneyland. The troop also attends Boy Scout Camp in Pearlington, MS. At camp, scouts work on Merit Badges they need for their next rank. Scout camp lasts one week.

The Troop meets on Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Brother Peter Memorial Gym Lobby.

The Cheerleading Squad, under the leadership of Jean Larroux and Jessica Deffes, was well prepared and very eager for the first football game. The squad was young with only four veterans returning from last year: Jean, Chris, Leigh, and Jessica.

Early in the year partners were formed to perform stunts together. During the last two games of the season, Michael Casano courageously filled in for Mr. Rockachaw Brent Dantin, who was injured in a car accident.

Brother Aquin has been quoted as saying, "This year's squad was 10-0, out cheering all of our opponents."

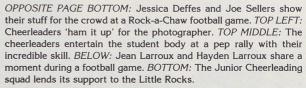

The year had many highlights, but there were 3 that stood out the most. The first was the football team's victory over Bay High in which fans, led by energetic cheerleaders, cheered until the final buzzer. The second highlight was during homecoming when one of our own cheerleaders, Jessica, was honored Homecoming Queen. The last major highlight was being honored at the football banquet for our loyalty, dedication, and hard work throughout the season.

Later during the year we received lettermen jackets from the athletic department. This was the first time in the history of SSC to honor Cheerleaders with jackets.

To sum up the year, the cheerleaders had boosted school spirit, supported the football team and had an all-round fantastic time doing it.

Computer Club

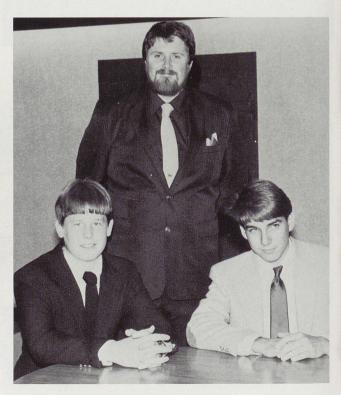

Mr. Franklin, the Computer Club Moderator, David Brock, Charlie Hillyer, Wedon Brown, Keith Harrigan and friends visited NSTL's Computer Center during one of this year's field trips.

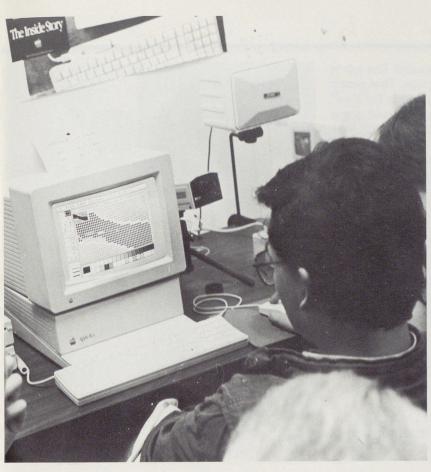

The Computer Club continued to progress this year with excellent participation and fresh leadership from unexpected sources. By year's end, membership had blossomed to exceed forty members. The reason for this computer enthusiasm may be discerned by cataloguing the second year of activity.

"I was not surprised to see this much enthusiasm," said Alex Helwig, the 1988 Club President. "The faculty, administration, and most importantly, our club members have maintained eager support by asserting keen interest in all club functions. They assuredly will continue to do so, resulting in the club's further growth."

The club moderator, Mr. Franklin, who is thrilled with this year, has the following to say about the 1987-1988 season:

"This second year of existence found the SSC Computer Club expanding its activities through guest lectures; more in vivo field experiences; displays during parent-teacher conferences; group investigation of new varied programs; and successful fund-raising efforts. Next year, with greater emphasis on internal student leadership, we hope to accomplish more in the realm of school and community service. To further this goal, membership will be limited to twenty; ergo, each member should experience greater personal involvement in each of our projects and meetings."

Drama

Once again the Drama Club did another fine job in putting together their spring production. This year's play was a farce in three acts. "An Apple for Eve" gave its audiences a good laugh and boasted some great acting. The players were: Chris Schmidt, Jean Larroux, Danny Berry, David Bast, Shane Preatorious, Mike Souviac, and Jorge Ponjuan. From OLA: Kim Trowbridge, Leigh Triche, Hayden Larroux, Anna Dean, Nicole Montagnet, Karen Kolodziej, and Jennifer Burrows.

The play is one of many small plts. Miss Dorinda Apple is an eccentric old lady who is very wealthy. She lives in Apple City, which was founded by her Grandfather. Her niece Eve is in love with the boy next door, but if she marries him she will lose $90,000. In order to get the money she must marry the last bearer of the Apple name. The person is none other than William Apple who is a country bumpkin.

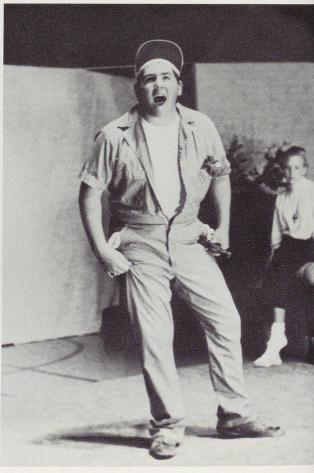

From one comic scene to another our characters lead us to a heartwarming ending. This year's production was under the direction of faculty member Mr. Walter Damiens.

"It was too much fun," said Jean Larroux. "The entire cast had a very memorable time putting on the play."

Homecoming

The Rockachaws delighted a stadium full of homecoming fans as they wore down the visiting Pass Christian Pirates 27-6. This improved the team's record to 5-4 with the team gaining over 300 yards in total offense.

Tailback Yasin Shabazz scored twice, with touch-down runs of 30 and 17 yards. The other Rockachaw points were provided by Freddie Wirstrom, who caught a 34-yard aerial from quarterback Cedric Smith, and Jorge Ponjuan who blasted over from the one yard line in the fourth quarter.

Coach Lyons indicated that he was pleased with the efforts of his entire squad, and mentioned in his post-game comments to his team the importance of ending the season on a winning note.

This year's Homecoming Queen was Jessica Deffes, daughter of Mrs. Tricia Deffes. Jessica is a Senior Alpha Honor Roll Student at Our Lady Academy. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Foreign Language Club, Yearbook Staff, Spanish Honor Society, Quiz Bowl Team, Math and Science Team, and S.A.D.D. In addition, she is Senior Class Secretary and Captain of the St. Stanislaus Varsity Cheerleaders.

Maids for this year's Homecoming Court were Kristi Breland of Bay Senior High School, Nicole Montagnet of Our Lady Academy, Jennifer Reeves of Long Beach High School, and Stacey Standridge of Coast Episcopal High School.

Alumni

Approximately 460 alumni and friends attended the SSC Annual Alumni Reunion on Saturday, January 30, at the Jefferson-Orleans. The honor class of 1968 with thirty members had the best attendance followed closely by the class of 1978 with twenty-nine members. The oldest honor class (1948) was represented by these fifteen members: J. D. Abadie, Eddie Brignac, Nick Bruno, Walton Caire, Mike Capone, Tony Caranna, Joe Fasold, Rev. James Francez, John Kerrigan, Ed Landry, Buddy Laughlin, Monk Montero, Ray Sheehy, George Shuman, and Don White.

The oldest alumni in attendance were Cyril Glover '22, Doctor M. J. Wolfe '23, and A. J. Brady '27. Representatives of the classes of '49, '59, '64, '69, and '79 were already making plans for next year's reunion which will be held on January 21, 1989.

Other alumni activities included a special honoring of former SSC basketball players and coaches before the SSC-Long Beach game on January 29 in the Brother Peter Memorial Gym.

In addition, members of the SSC Class of 1938 were honored at St. Stanislaus on May 21, 1988. This special celebration commemorated the Golden Jubilee of their graduation. The golden jubilarians attended the graduation exercises of the class of 1988; and received commemorative diplomas from Brother Paul Montero. Following the graduation ceremony, a banquet was held for the jubilarians and their families.

Intramurals

Students from 9th on up showed enthusiasm and team spirit while participating in this year's intramural program. In both Senior and Junior Divisions, competition was fast and furious.

Homerooms 11C and 10A survived a tough intramural flag football season to win the Senior Division and Junior Division Championships, respectively.

In the Senior Division, 11C won both rounds of play and won the overall championship with a hard-fought 26-18 decision over 12B.

Leading the charge for 11B were quarterback Lloyd Nicaud and receivers Marc Matherne, Chris Breide and Bart Brooks, all of whom scored touchdowns in the championship game.

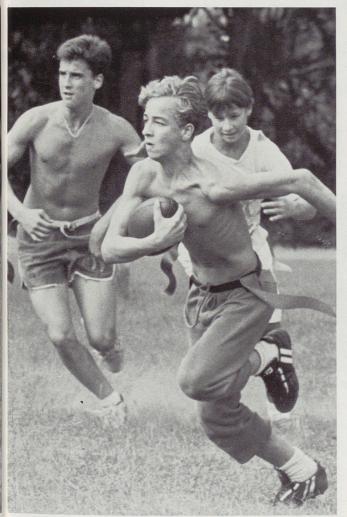

In Junior Division, championship play, 10A prevailed over 10C by a score of 24-12. Quarterback Robbie Bishop threw touchdown passes to Adam Ostrowe, Chris Perrone and Greg Schruff.

In Soccer, 11B took the Senior Division by storm while in the Junior Division, 10A was again triumphant over a composite team of all the other classes.

Key Club

The newly formed St. Stanislaus Key Club received its official Key Club charter at a ceremony on March 29, 1988, on the school campus. Leonard Kergosien, President of the club, introduced and welcomed the guests at the ceremony. Mr. Lee Perry, representing the Gulfport Kiwanis Club, presented the charter to Kergosien.

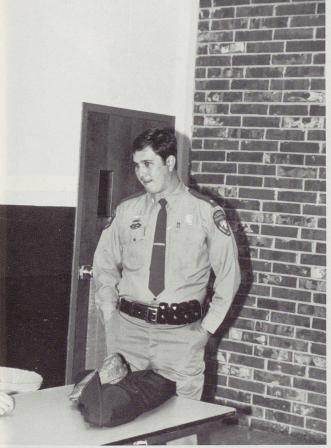

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. Vic Franckiewicz, Mayor of Bay St. Louis and a 1972 graduate of St. Stanislaus. He emphasized the importance of the Key Club, which is a service-oriented organization to help people and to support projects in the community. Brother Paul Montero, principal, and Brother John Hotstream, moderator of the club, also made brief remarks.

Photography

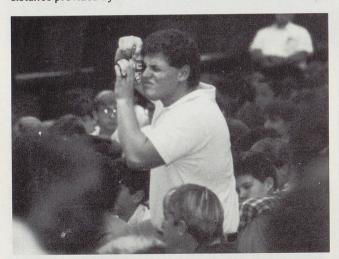

The 1987 edition of "Reflections" received its highest individual ratings in the area of photography. With a relatively inexperienced staff — this was quite an achievement. In Action Photography the book received 275 points out of a possible 300 (Very Good/Excellent). In Group Photography Stanislaus received 160 out of a possible 200 points — (Very Good). In Photo Quality, Reflections of '87 received its highest rating - 290 points out of a possible 300 (Very Good/Excellent)! Judge Terry Nelson of the National Scholastic Press Association for the University of Minnesota made the following comments:

"... You and your staff are to be commended for your first book together . . . super photos! . . . congratulations to your 6th grade photographer!"

This year's photography staff worked diligently to maintain its high standard of performance. Staff size increased. Jonathan Morrill, L.W.A.S. coordinator, contributed several photographs to the book in addition to having several of his works published in the local newspaper. Sandy Sarpy, Head Yearbook Photographer and Senior Editor, received the "Best In Award" for Yearbook Photography.

The Photography Staff was again under the direction of Mr. David Schommer and Mr. Tom Ackerman with special assistance provided by Brother John Abate and Mr. Bill Jennings.

Quiz Bowl

The Varsity Quiz Bowl team of St. Stanislaus had a successful season winning the first two rounds of competition in the WYES Channel 12 Quiz Bowl program, which airs each Saturday at 5 pm.

WYES is the educational television station in New Orleans, Louisiana.

In the first round of action St. Stanislaus defeated Ursuline Academy of New Orleans by a score of 250-80. In the second round held on Nov. 19, St. Stanislaus was victorious over Sacred Heart Academy of New Orleans 215-75.

Members of the Quiz Bowl team spent several hours outside of school preparing for competition.

This year's team also competed against Country Day School and Buras High School.

Members of the Quiz Bowl Team are Jonathan Thames, captain; Bruce Barker, Joseph Overall, Felix Sternfels, and Erick Hill, alternate.

School moderators for the team were Mrs. Lynne Hoke, and Brother James.

S.A.D.D.

Students Against Driving Drunk (S.A.D.D.) had an active year selling T-shirts, passing out business cards with the message — "Drunk Driving Kills!", holding a car wash, and helping with the general day to day activities around school. In addition, a fashion show benefiting the St. Stanislaus and Our Lady Academy Chapter of Students Against Driving Drunk was held at the Brother Peter Memorial Gym on the campus of SSC.

Models were members of the Princess Shoppe Teen Board and SSC students David Bradley, Matthew Richmond, Frank Burdette, Ya-Sin Shabazz, Chris Schmidt, Paul Montjoy, and Freddie Wirstrom.

Commentator Jane Ann Fahey, manager of The Princess Shoppe in Bay St. Louis, emphasized the slogan, "It's not fashionable to drink and drive."

With numbers increasing, S.A.D.D. is proving to be an integral part of extracurriculars here at SSC.

Students Against Driving Drunk is under the direction of religion teacher Mr. Tom Eldringhoff.

Social Services

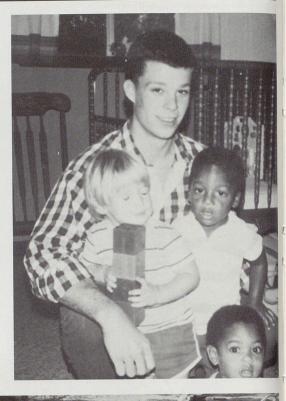

For as long as many of us can remember, Brother Canisius has been taking groups of students to many different places of social work for what is known as the St. Stanislaus Social Services Program (Project Do).

This time allows us to interact with people less fortunate than we are or those just in need of a friend. Some groups go to Bay Catholic Elementary where they are able to be a helping hand to the children. Both the children and the Project Do'ers look forward to their visits with each other even though the time span is not long enough.

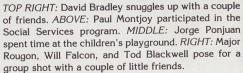

Other groups will stop up at the Hotel Reed Nursing Home, where the elderly are always ready to "entertain" their guests. Whether it be a game of cards, a walk around the block, or just a nice little chat, both the elderly and their friends enjoy each other's company.

Other groups go to the Child Development Center or the Methodist Children's Center.

The Social Services Program in its many parts, whether it be with the young or old, helps a volunteer grow as a Christian and put the Christian values into practice. These practices are especially helpful to the Seniors, who, as it being their last year of high school, need this practice to help them through their life ahead.

Student Council

The Student Council sponsored several student oriented activities this year — a fishing rodeo, skating parties, bowling parties, dances, pep rallies, the Thanksgiving Basket Project, pool and ping pong tournaments along with other similar activities.

Response by the student body to the many activities was generally good. Of particular interest was this year's Fishing Rodeo in which students ranging from 6th thru 12th competed in a variety of categories.

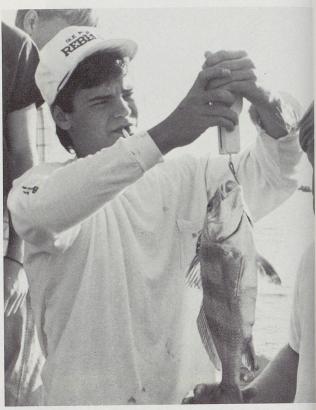

In April campaigning had begun for next year's officers. By the time school ended, a newly elected council was well underway planning next year's activities.

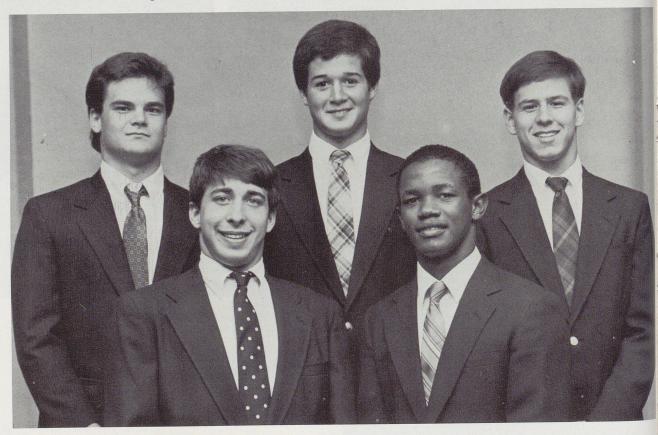

President of the Student Council for the 1987-'88 term was Ya-Sin Shabazz. Other officers included Jerry Fackrell, first vice president; John Baxter, second vice president; John Endom, secretary; and Noah Denson, treasurer.

Organizations representatives on the Student Council are Band, Danny Berry; Boy Scouts, Ross Bonura; Cheerleaders, Jean Larroux; Prep Quiz Bowl, Eric Hill; and Yearbook, Sandy Sarpy.

Student Masses

Spiritual Growth is the ultimate goal of the teachings here at St. Stanislaus. Thus, the end result of religious education at St. Stanislaus is to enable students to integrate their faith with their daily living. Therefore, opportunities are provided that allow for students to express themselves in a spiritual manner. A religion curriculum, a Social Service Program and Student Masses are all elements of the religion program.

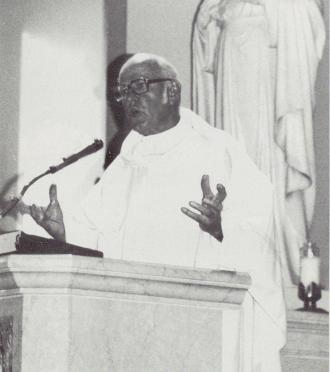

Once again, students volunteered their special talents, time, and effort to make this year's student masses successful. Under the shared leadership of Mr. Tom Ackerman, and Mr. Tom Eldringhoff, students met on their free time to help choose songs and readings and to arrange the individual masses. Complete homerooms volunteered their services — choosing a theme and having individuals within the class do the readings and provide leadership.

The efforts made by the student body heightened the sense of unity within the school community. The year concluded with a Mass dedicated to the graduating class of 1988.

Weightlifting

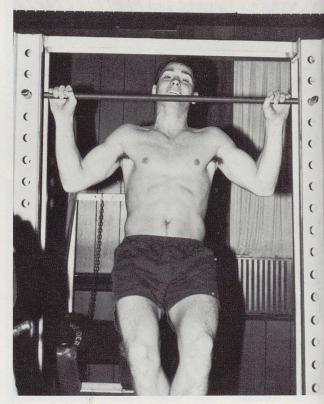

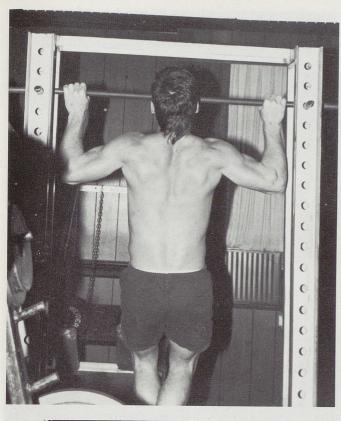

The St. Stanislaus Weightlifting Club (SSWLC) began in 1969 in one small room with limited equipment. Since then, the weight room has grown to include over 25 machines, benches, and free weights combined (some designed by Brother Bennet himself) providing one of the best equipped weightlifting facilities on the Gulf Coast. The facilities are utilized by SSC coaches for their weightlifting program.

Members of this year's club participated in the Mississippi Invitational Powerlifting Champion-

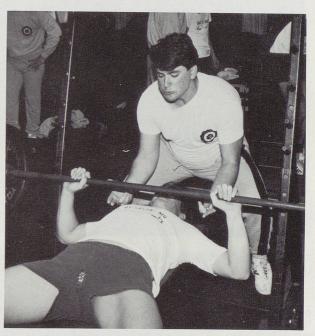

Brother Bennet, retired teacher and former President of the American Drug Free Power Lifters Association, has been working to spread the sport of weightlifting for the last 31 years. Brother Bennet has promoted weightlifting by establishing clubs and facilities in Houma, Alexandria, Mobile, and Bay St. Louis.

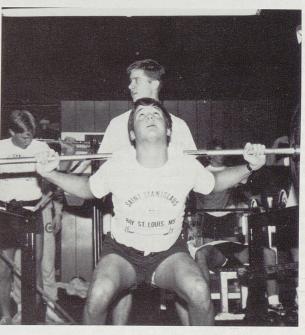

"Many people lack confidence, explains Brother Bennet. Through weightlifting they see improvement in themselves and this helps their self image. The psychological benefits I see for students keeps me interested in the sport."

The National Scholastic Press Association, in recognition of merit awarded the 1987 edition of "Reflections" the honor rating of SECOND in the National Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Association at the University of Minnesota. Judged on several criteria including copy, photography, concept, and graphic design — the Reflections '87 edition received the following individual ratings: Copy, Good; Design, Very Good; Concept, Good; Photography Very Good.

This year, the staff has attempted to maintain and improve upon last year's effort. To do this we broadened our coverage of the school's clubs and activities and thus added sixteen pages to the book. In addition, our Division spread has been extended to two pages in keeping with recommendation by last year's judge and offers a more graphic and artistic style. Under the direction of Senior Editor Sandy Sarpy, this year's edition boasts a newly incorporated Advertisement Section.

This was a busy year for veteran yearbook staffers. In recognition of the first-ever National Yearbook Week, staffers arranged a display of old yearbooks in the school library as well as a display of how a yearbook is made. In addition, photographs were sold in the school mall during lunch hours.

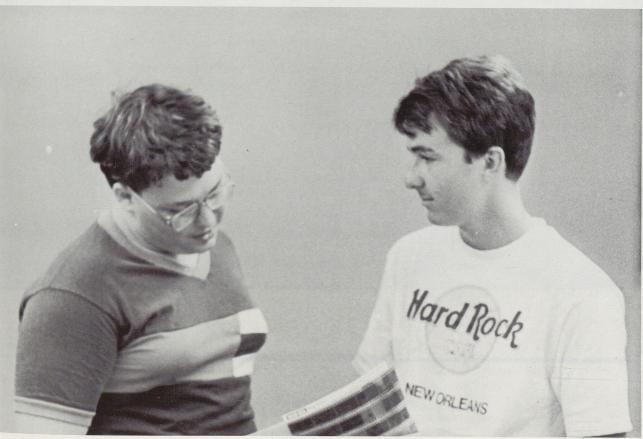

Perhaps the highlight of this year's activities was a private tour of the local newspaper "The Sea Coast Echo." Staffers found the field trip interesting and informative. Also this year, Editor in chief Chris Kern and Class Section Editor Cliff Ling began production of a yearbook promotional video — the first ever in the school's history. Editors celebrated the end of the year with a pizza party held in the faculty lounge.

Special Moments

Ring Mass

On Wednesday, September 2, 1987, the students representing the 134th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School received their class rings at a special mass and ceremony held in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Brother Albert Guarino, school chaplain, was the celebrant of the mass; and he was assisted by senior faculty members Mike Gemelli, Brother Joseph Donovan, Mr. James Thriffiley, Brother John Hotstream, and Mrs. Dot Kersanac. The ring ceremony was attended by parents and friends of the seniors and faculty members.

Brother William Leimbach, master of ceremonies, welcomed the seniors and their guests. Brother Paul Montero distributed the rings to the seniors. He was assisted by Brother Noel Lemmon, dean of students, and Dr. Michael Ryan, academic assistant principal. In a short address to the seniors, Brother Paul Montero stressed the significance of wearing the senior ring as a symbol and the importance of maintaining the rich tradition of St. Stanislaus. Following the ceremony, a reception for the seniors and their guests was held in the student union on the campus.

In an effort to strengthen the spirit of unity, St. Stanislaus began a Big Brother/Little Brother Program this year. The purpose of the program was to give Seniors the opportunity and challenge of being a role model and counselor for those new 6th and 7th grade students on campus. Under the direction of Mr. Ron Engel, the program officially began with a ceremony held during the first quarter in the school chapel. Seventh grader Jean Paul Stafford, in an address to those present, stressed the significance of the program and the responsibilities that must be taken by both Seniors and Little Brothers. During the brief ceremony, both Big Brothers and Little Brothers were bonded symbolically through the lighting of candles.

Throughout the year, Big Brothers and Little Brothers alike kept in touch — going for walks, working on homework together, going out for pizza etc. This year's program concluded with the Big Brother/Little Brother Barbeque and field day held on one of the Seniors' final days on campus.

Response to the program was quite positive. Several Seniors enjoyed the opportunity to assert themselves as role models while the younger boys appreciated their time and concern.

Junior-Senior Prom

A great band, terrific weather, and festive decorations all combined to make this year's Junior/Senior Prom one of the best. Couples danced, exchanged friendly conversation, or simply relaxed on the deck of the Bay Waveland Yacht Club — the site of this year's event. To make the evening memorable, several Seniors chose to squeeze all of their friends into group photographs. Dancing was virtually non-stop with music ranging from Top 40 to Rock-and-Roll. Perhaps the highlight of this year's prom was a "rap" performance by members of S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk). With the night still young, many individuals went in search of more fun at post prom parties. Several Seniors chose to obtain this year's prom favors to keep or give to their date. Several Faculty members were also on hand for the occasion — some coming dressed in the formal prom attire. This year's prom was truly a success!

Senior Retreat

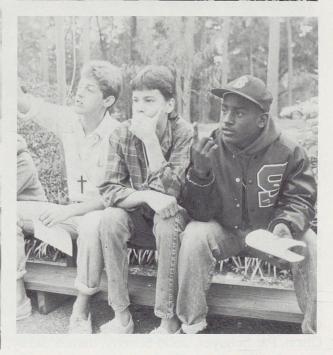

Members of the graduating class of 1988 had the opportunity this year to participate in the annual Senior Retreat. The retreat gave the Seniors the opportunity to relax, clear their heads, express personal feelings toward one another and their teachers as well as reflect upon their years at St. Stanislaus. It also gave them the chance to think about their future. There was singing, celebration of the eucharist, silent prayer, reflection and group discussions. Time was also spent just having fun — throwing frisbees etc. Several Seniors chose to pose for photographs with their friends to remember the occasion. General attitude towards the retreat was good — many seniors felt that it was a worthwhile experience.

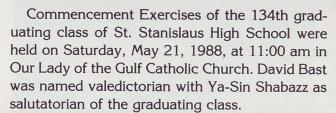

Graduation

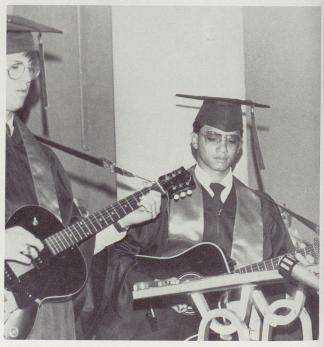

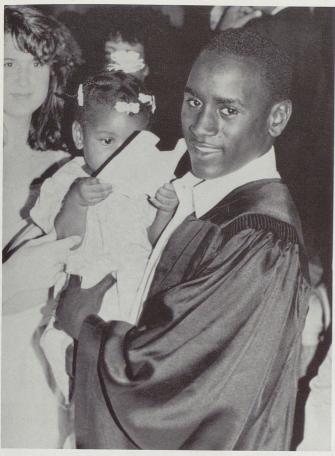

Brother Paul Montero, principal of St. Stanislaus, conferred diplomas upon the 1988 graduating class and the Golden Jubilee Class of 1938. Brother William Leimbach served as master of ceremonies. Following the conferring of diplomas, Brother Paul presented the graduation awards. Included in these awards was the "Character Cup" given to an outstanding graduating day student and to an outstanding graduating boarding student; the "St. Stanislaus Alumni Association Award" given to a senior who has shown special concern for his fellow man; and the "President's Award," which is the highest award given to a graduate of St. Stanislaus. Jubilarians of the Class of 1938 included Pete Buttross, Harold Gautier, David Glover, Lee Grevemberg, Robert Grevemberg, Vladimar Ivicevich, Ernest McAulliffe, Eugene Manieri, Gene Monti, Hugh Moore, James O'Brien, George Olson, Pat Schayot, John Sheehy, James Skelly, Doug Sayze and Jay Weil.

Junior Class Officer Lloyd Nicaud provided the needed pitching support to boost the Rocks into being a leading district contender.

VARSITY FOOTBALL Rocks Post 6-4 Season

The 1987-'88 Rockachaw Varsity Football Team finished its season with an exciting 22-18 win over area rival Bay High. When the game was over, St. Stanislaus had their first victory over Bay High in the last seven years. The final victory gave the Rocks a 6-4 season, the first winning season the Rockachaws have had since 1983. Last year the Rockachaws were 1-9.

The final contest of the season was highlighted by clean, aggressive hitting by both squads, and nobody at the game knew who the winner would be until time expired.

St. Stanislaus relied on the accurate arm of quarterback Cedric Smith who had 17 completions in 25 attempts for 272 passing yards.

Smith's favorite target was Freddie Wirstrom, who had nine receptions for 190 yards.

Coach Larry Ramsey's Rockachaw defense rose to the occasion many times during the game, led by Senior linebacker Jim Bradley and the front four composed of Craig Sweeney, Vincent Bradley, Tracey Koller, and Shane Harris.

In looking back over the season Head Coach Ken Lyons stated, "We have become a good ball club. I want to compliment our assistant coaches for the fine job they have done all season. They put in a lot of long hours. And our fan support was terrific!"

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Roundballers Place Second in District

The 1987-'88 Varsity Rock-a-Chaw Basketball Team

The Varsity Basketball Team had a successful season highlighted by a three game sweep of cross town rival Bay High and a 30 point victory over district competition Hancock North Central. The Rocks also swept two games from Catholic rival St. John. At season's end the Rock's had compiled a 15-11 won/loss record and finished Second in District.

The Rockachaws were led by senior Yasin Shabazz who received All district honors and was the defensive MVP in district B/AAAA. Yasin led the team in scoring and assists, averaging 15 points a game and 5.3 assists.

Also voted to the All District team were senior Joe Lee and junior Brian Alexander. Joe led the team in recoveries and steals, while Brian topped the squad in rebounds, was second in steals, and third in scoring, averaging 11 points per game.

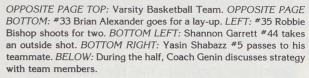

Junior Chad Mathews finished the season second in rebounds with sophomore Shannon Garrett. Shannon was also second in scoring with 12 points per game.

Coach Chuck Genin completed this second consecutive winning season as Head Coach. Coach Genin said that the overall performance this year was great. He believes the Rocks have a tremendous amount of junior and sophomore talent and hopes that a district championship is just around the corner.

The members of this year's Varsity Basketball Team were: Ya-Sin Shabazz (captain), Joe Lee, John Gross, David Bast, Andre Rollins, Brian Alexander, Chad Mathews, Shannon Garrett, and Sean Sewell.

Little Rocks

The 7th grade basketball team enjoyed great success in compiling a 5-1 win/loss record. The little rocks were led by Coach Eddie Burgo who credited the basic fundamentals of rebounding, passing, dribbling, and shooting as keys to the Rocks' success.

Coach Burgo believes that the young players' aggressiveness and eagerness to learn means great things are to come in the future of Stanislaus basketball.

Coach Burgo's 8th grade team chalked up a 6-7 win/loss record during their season, which gave them a great deal of tournament experience that should be helpful in years to come.

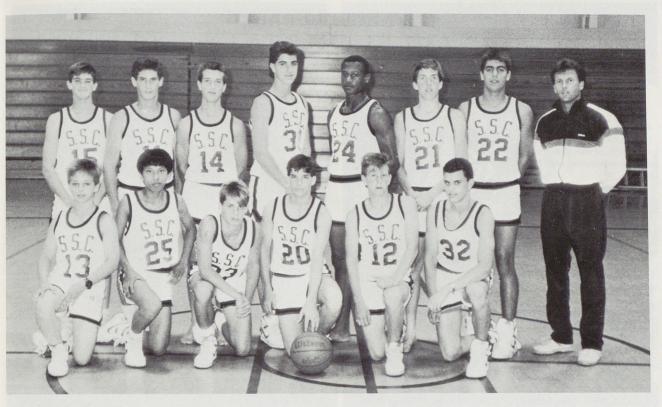

Mickey Quinlan led the little rocks in scoring and rebounding, and Kevin Behan scored the first three pointer in the history of eighth grade basketball at Stanislaus.

The members of the 8th grade team were: Mickey Quinlan, Stephen Schruff, Darrin Rose, Adam Breerwood, Train Platz, Kendall Daniels, Rusty Necaise, Tate Thriffiley, Michael Lee, and Leo Hebert. In addition, several seventh graders also did well enough to lay on the eighth grade level. These players were: Bo Miller, Kevin Behan, Peter Ritten, Jeff Bishop, and Evan Morris.

Stickmen Gain State Playoff Berth

The St. Stanislaus Rockachaw Baseball Team highlighted an excellent season with their first-ever appearance in the State AAAA Baseball Playoffs.
The Rocks finished with a 7-3 District record, second to District Champion d'Iberville's 8-2 worksheet. The Rocks were 10-9 overall.

SSC was led by the strong pitching of sophomore Cedric Smith who ended the season with the best statistics of any pitcher on the Gulf Coast. Cedric had 98 strikeouts, a 1.29 ERA, and a 9-4 record.

Offensively, the Rockachaws had six hitters who batted over .300. Sophomore Greg Schruff hit .429 to lead the team, followed by Yasin Shabazz (.388), Lloyd Nicaud (.367), Cedric Smith (.350), Rocky Rhodes (.321), and Joe Lee (.308).

The Rockachaws treated their fans to many exciting moments throughout the season. They defeated the Biloxi Indians, 10-3, in a very impressive contest. Biloxi went on to win the Class 5A State Championship.

SSC also beat d'Iberville 4-3 in an 11 inning marathon in which the Rocks outhit the Warriors 12-5. During the course of the season the Rocks defeated Long Beach (District 5A Champion) and St. John (District 2A Champion).

Fine senior leadership was a critical ingredient in the Rockachaws success. Catcher William Scarborough showed great defensive skills behind the plate, and his clutch hitting helped the Rocks to several victories. William was voted "Mr. Rockachaw" by his teammates.

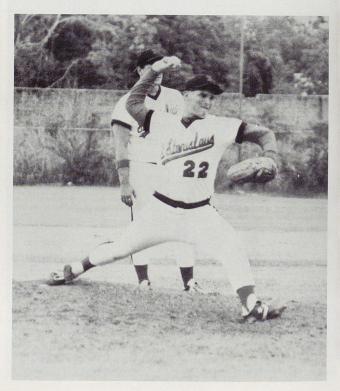

Sophomores Cedric Smith, Greg Schruff, and Robbie Bishop will be called on to play major roles next season, along with junior Troy Pepperman who should develop into a fine hitter.

Freshman who should break into the starting lineup include Kevin Jacobi, Scott Peterson, and Robbie Bourgeois.

Head Coach Mike Gemelli demanded and got the most out of his ballplayers, and assistant coach Jerry Spell did an excellent job coaching at first Prospects for next year seem very bright, as District Champion d'Iberville graduates eight of their nine starters, while the Rocks had only four starters who were seniors.

"The fine season we had was a tribute to the hard work and dedication of every ballplayer on our team. Everyone contributed in some way to our success and we'll all enjoy some good memories from this year," said Coach Gemelli.

Seventh grader, Manuel Gonzales had a fine year at the Boys "A" singles position finishing with an 8-4 scorecard. Terry LeBourgeois did a fine job at the "A" Mixed Doubles slot even though he played with a variety of partners. Michael Cromwell also played with a variety of partners including Marc Distefano, Myron Labat Jr., and Robert Schutt and finished with a perfect 10-0 record at the Boys' "A" Doubles position. Pat Fellows was also a contributing member to the Varsity's success.

The "B" team enjoyed a winning season also with an impressive 8-1-1 record losing only to Ocean Springs and tying Pascagoula. Positions were mixed throughout the year with no player having a set position. "B" team members were Paul Bernadas, Manning Montagnet, Linn Montjoy, and Anthony Sperance.

During the past three years under Coach Myron Labat, the Varsity Rockachaws have come through posting 31 wins while tasting defeat only 6 times.

DORM LIFE

Friday Night! — Jay Korndoffer and an unidentified ghoul provided some of the chills and thrills at this year's rec hall haunted house.

St. Stanislaus is a day and boarding school for boys in grades sixth through twelve. It has a capacity enrollment of 570 students which includes 289 boarding students.

The boarding environment provides many opportunities for social growth. The boarders experience the give and take of "family life" by sharing rooms with members of the same age group.

Several organizations are provided to allow students to pursue their individual interests — student council, Key Club, Prep Quiz Bowl, Students Against Driving Drunk, Radio Club, Computer Club, Yearbook, Band, Cheerleading, Honor Societies, Drama, and others.

In addition to the many school organizations, students take part in dances, fishing rodeos, skating, skateboard and pool tournaments, and other leisure activities.

St. Stanislaus seeks to strengthen the social ties among the boarders, their families and the staff. In an environment characterized by Christ and concern and friendly discipline, faculty and students get to know one another personally.

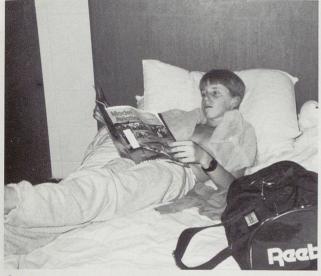

By encouraging students to interact openly and cordially with the adults around them, as well as with other youths, and boarding department fulfills its responsibility for shaping well-developed and mature "men of character."

Brother Neri's Dorm

The boarders awake in Bro. Neri's dorm at 7:00 o'clock and go to breakfast first thing. After returning from breakfast they clean up their rooms, get allowances, and return towels. We go to school around 8:00 o'clock. After school we have intramurals which include football, basketball, baseball and soccer during the summer months. In the cooler months sports are carried on in the recreation halls. These include pool, bumper pool, air hockey, foosball, and the atari or the t.v. room.

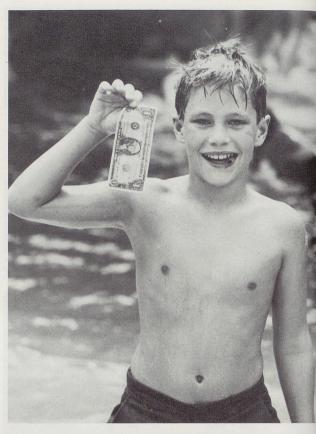

Once a week the boarders are allowed to go off campus. Most of the time they go to the candy store. They like to be boarders because it develops good study habits which lead to good grades. Bro. Neri and Mr. Spotswood are in charge of the sixth and seventh grade dorm. "The group has lots of potential and they are beginning to achieve that potential" says Neri of his group of boarders.

Boarders sometimes get homesick which can easily be cured by a trip to Bro. Neri or the school nurse. The best thing about boarding is that one gets to know people very well. When they go their separate ways they hope to remember their good friends that they lived with all year. "Thanks for a great year Brother Neri!"

Brother Eduardo's Dorm

Life in the 8th grade dorm is fun. Our dorm is under the supervision of Brother Eduardo and his assistant Coach Kenney. Both of the men are well liked by the kids in the dorm. Our life in Brother's dorm is very fun. After school we have a variety of activities. We have a daily schedule to follow. After school we can do almost whatever we want. At 4:20 is shower time and immediately following this is study hall. After study hall comes supper which is followed by an hour of free time in the rec hall. We go to the chapel at about 8:00 pm. At the chapel announcements are given and there is some time for prayer and silent reflection. After a final study hall (which ends around 9:15) we return to the dorm to get ready for bed. At 9:45 "quiet down" is given and everyone goes to bed. On weekends, if you stay, Brother takes you to the mall on Saturday (either Edgewater in Biloxi or the Plaza in New Orleans East). Brother Eduardo really cares and listens to your problems.

Brother Raymond's Dorm

As you may already know, St. Stanislaus is a boarding school and a regular day school. For those of you who don't know what a St. Stanislaus boarder's Monday through Friday life is like, I have prepared a concise summary of our daily activities.

At 7:00 am we wake to the sounds of a loud speaker. At 7:10 we leave for breakfast. From 7:25 to 8:00 we shower, dress for school, and have a "room check" by Brother Raymond. School starts at 8:07. At about 10:00am we have a short recess which follows first and second periods. Following third and fourth period comes lunch. The school "home stretch" begins at approximately 12:30. When school ends at 3:10, we are responsible for going back to the dorm to check in and get allowance and permissions. Until roughly 5:00 pm we are free to participate in a variety of activities. At 5:25 pm we have another room check which is followed by our first study hall. At 6:30 we eat dinner and from 7:00 until 8:00 we have free time in the rec hall. At 8:00 we enter our final study hall period which lasts until 9:00. When study hall is over, we return to the dorm to conclude our day. Some boarders do stay on the weekends. There's the mall, the beach, and mass on Sunday.

Brother William's Dorm

Life in Brother William's Dorm is good if one gets to know Brother William. Though at times, life in a dormitory can get you down, I'd have to say I like it in this dorm and I'm glad I got a chance to experience Brother William as a Prefect. On weekdays it's just routine. On weekends, it's not as bad as you might think. You can go to malls (without paying for gas), or to dances if there is one that particular weekend. If a person says that he hates staying on weekends he either never stayed a weekend or he just gets homesick.

By living in the dorm, a person learns the value of privileges. One maintains his rights and privileges through cooperation and effort. But, if an individual does not protect his rights and privileges (such as making calls on the dorm phone etc. . . .) — he might lose them.

Brother William is strict in many ways. However, with a little cooperation, life in the dorm can be pleasant and even fun!

Brother Joseph's Dorm

I feel that boarding here at St. Stanislaus has been one of my best experiences in my life. The friends that are made, the structured study environment, and the maturity one gains from being a boarder here — is gratifying!

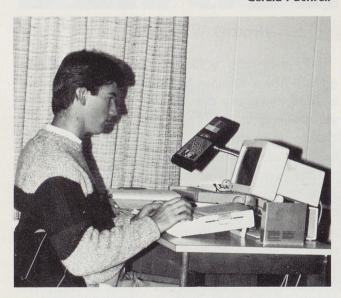

For a regular student, the school ends at 3:10. But the same does not hold true for the boarders. Through after school activities and living in the dorm, a strong bond grows between the boarders — a bond similar to that which you would find in a large family. One figures that he's never alone with any pressures or problems, someone will always be there to help out.

Pranks are only half the fun of being a boarder. A sense of humor is a must to survive in the dorm or, at least, with your roommates. Even something often feared such as initiation can be fun!

The structured study environment for a boarder is important, and Stanislaus gives a student that. Acceptable study periods are set up to give you the most efficient study time possible. Rewards are even given for good report cards. When you have proven yourself as a mature and responsible student, you can pick your own study period or even take some time off. You not only learn to study and work on your own, but you develop good study skills and self discipline.

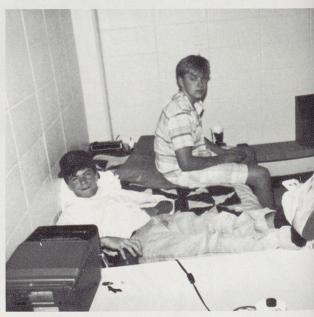

Some people figure that being a boarder would be a burden more than a benefit, but I disagree. I feel that growing up and maturing under the watchful eyes of Brother Joseph and the rest of the Brothers has — without a doubt — made me and my fellow students better people.

REFLECTIONS ...

Today, we the Seniors of 1988, are gathered here for the greatest milestone of our young lives — high school graduation. However, without the presence of our loved ones who are with us today, the only significance of this event would be marking the completion of school.

Over my past four years here at St. Stanislaus, I have evolved into a new and better person. From my classmates I have gained new perspectives. From my teachers I have gained new insights, and from my school I have gained new opportunities.

As I look back on my four years, I see St. Stanislaus not only as a school, but as a family, as a community, and as a way of life. And the St. Stanislaus way of life is a champion's way of life . . . We vie for excellence, and we reward valiant attempts. And most importantly, we strive to help and understand our neighbors while remaining true to ourselves. Although I will soon be abandoning this family and departing this community, I hope this way of life will remain imbedded within me forever.

I see graduation as an incentive to continue to strive for excellence. All of us in this class have accomplished a unique and special goal — graduation. In the future, today's ceremony will serve as my reference point. For four long years I doubted the value of my efforts, but today, the doubt is removed and this ceremony will carry me for the next four or more years.

When graduation was not in sight, when a test was just another grade as opposed to a final exam, and a game just another disappointment as opposed to a Bay High victory, there was always one person there for me with open arms. And when the winning returned, the awards rolled in, and graduation neared, this person demanded no glory and issued no "I told you so's." When the good times came, many more people were present for congratulatory remarks and words of advice. So this one person was inadvertently pushed to the side of the fame line, but it didn't matter because this one person gave unconditionally. This one person was my daily life incentive. This one person encouraged me, but never made demands on me; motivated me, but never pushed me; provided for me, but never pampered me.

So, for all these acts, mom, I will always love you. For these gifts, mom, I will always love you, and for these talents, mom, I will always envy you. Thank you, for it will not be until I become more like you that I will reach my true potential.

I would also like to thank my two brothers for the lessons they have taught me and the sacrifices they have made for me. Thank you Erica for your willingness to see me develop. Thanks to my family, classmates, and friends for your support. And thanks to all the teachers, relatives, coaches and friends for their presence. But most of all, thanks, God, for your blessings.

Ya-Sin Shabazz, Salutatorian, Class of 1988
